This is the skeleton of our market. it should be static

It should be efficient to navigate through the market and have a lot of information regarding the user status such as:

- number of ATN token for connected user
- number of active channel (clickable and will redirect to Account page) on the left it should have some buttons to navigate within the market such as:

- Market which redirect to the market page
- Account page

This one is the skeleton plus an extra navigation bar on the left
